

Marie (Barela)

Years ago I fell in love with you
We talked all day and all night just me and you
I watched you grow and fall in love
I saw the hearts break one by one
You always had a smile for me
We understood that it had to be

I couldn't bear to see the boy with you, Marie
It took until today until my eyes could see
I was the boy who fell in love
I thought angels sent you from above
My hearts been yours until today
It's time my heart said, "Go away Marie"

And then today I saw your face as friends
You smiled and then the pain came back again
The way you laugh the way you grin
It always sets my mind to sin
Though long ago we both agreed
The fantasy was never freed (chorus)

The boys in the back yard
Would try so hard
To get you to look their way
The girls in the home room
Said there's no room
For a girl like you to stay
